

Training Classes

Does the Division of Fire offer EMT Basic continuing education classes?

Yes. The division offers a 3 day continuing education (CE) course approximately once a month. The EMT CE week provides 24 hours of continuing education credit in various categories. Space in these courses is limited, so registration is required. For more information and to register for an upcoming course, please contact the Fire Training office at (804) 501-5968.

Does the Division of Fire offer ALS continuing education classes?

Yes. The division offers a 3 day continuing education (CE) course approximately once a month. The ALS CE week provides 24 hours of continuing education credit in various categories. Space in these courses is limited, so registration is required. For more information and to register for an upcoming course, please contact the Fire Training office at (804) 501-5968.